DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, Claims 1 to 2, drawn to a speech recognition system for recognizing part of a spoken user request, and requesting another server to analyze the spoken request based on partial recognition, characterized in that registered sounds are Sound Names, identifying an entity and Speech Markers indicating a type of entity. (Class 704, Subclass 270.1)

Group II, Claims 3 to 7, drawn to a voice activated dialing system and method, comprising a hierarchically structured set of distributed database servers containing different sets of records providing mappings from a combination of Sound Names and Speech Markers to a telecommunication address of an entity. (Class 379, Subclass 88.03)

Group III, Claims 8 and 10, drawn to a method for registering Sound Names and Speech Markers by defining domains and subdomains and delegating authority for defining Sound Names and Speech Markers for a subdomain. (Class 704, Subclass 243)

Group IV, Claims 9 and 11, drawn to a Sound Name Server comprising a voice recorder for recording speech input and a sound name server arranged for forwarding a speech recording to a further Sound Name Server. (Class 704, Subclass 275)

2. The inventions listed as Groups I to IV do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:
3. Inventions I and II are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, Invention I has separate utility such as where Speech Markers are limited to indicating a type of entity instead of a language. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

4. Inventions II and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, Invention II has separate utility such as for a hierarchically structured set of distributed database servers providing mappings. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

5. Inventions III and IV are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, Invention III has separate utility such as for registering Names and Speech Markers by domains and subdomains, and delegating authority for a subdomain. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

6. Inventions I and IV are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, Invention IV has separate utility such as for utilizing a voice recorder, where a speech recording is transmitted for analysis. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

The examiner has required restriction between subcombinations usable together. Where Applicant elects a subcombination and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claims depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.
